

WHAT IS NOT IN THIS COURSE

Level of abstraction

On completion of this course, you will need to learn what kind of problems the local authority will present you with at the exam.

Normally the exam questions have a level of abstraction that is not evident from the syllabus and you will most likely feel sucker-punched if you attend the exam without some feel for the level of abstraction.

Several solutions to this problem exist. In many European countries, the community has released apps with representative question banks, some flight schools have compiled their own representative question bank and some authorities have released samples of their questions for everyone to see.

How to take the exam

Once you have completed the theoretical knowledge course, you may want to take the exam at the authority.

In order to attend the theoretical exam provided by the authority, you must be recommended by a declared or approved flight school according to Air-crew Regulation, FCL.025.

I cannot recommend you for the exam as I am not a flight school but a service provider, but I can help you find someone who can.

If you approach a flight school and ask to be recommended for the exam, they will most likely ask you to pass a “dummy” exam, to show that you are com-petent, so they can recommend you. They will probably require a fee for that, but this should be a lot less than the fee for attending a regular course.
